A Shrine of Memories and Friendships

Foreword

Reluctant to leave the school and the friends we love so well, we have attempted in this annual to record the friendships, interests, and activities of our high school life and to carry the informal spirit of youth into pictures and composition. Our power to commemorate extends only to events and persons; the rest will remain solely in our memories.

Mr. Albert G. Meier, Assistant Principal, Central High School

During Easter vacation, on a stormy, wintry day, I happened to be in our school building. The rooms and halls were, of course, deserted, but following the sound of distant voices I came to a large room, used temporarily i "Cehisean" headquarters, and found there a group of teachers and students, the advisers and some of the stati, hard at work assembling material for the new annual. The atmosphere seemed like that of a party, full of good cheer and enjoyment, not at all like that of a group of people druaging away at a project that had to be finished by a certain time. Notwithst atmosphere, the work was going forward in continuous managed at establishment,

I could not help being impressed by this instance, just one of innumerable in the control of the

'Can democracy be preserved and made to function?" is a question which is agitating all thoughtful people today. Perhaps it can, if all young people in high schools, in addition to theoretical learning, will work together on the countless projects of the life of their school as a community.

The Orchestra

EW organizations at Central offer its members more practical experience than the orchestra does. Now in its 37th year, the orchestra still maintains its original purpose to give Central students an opportunity to play with others in a group. Practice is held every day during fourth period in room 317. An ensemble with the following personnel has been chosen from the orchestra: first violin, Frances Mertens, Richard Schwartz: second violin, Eleanor Swanson, Lorraine Lang; cellos, Kenneth Johnson, Luel la Mailand; bass viol, George Hansler; flute, Frances Solem; piano, Robert Bodsgard

Previous to this year, the orchestra had been able to purchase a bass viol, a cello, a viola, and a bass drum. With the money earned this year, another cello and possibly another bass viol will be added to the list of instruments which is the first of the first of Loyalty, courage, physical and moral strength, and all of the admirable qualities of true manhood and womanhood are embodied in high school athlet ics. Whether we ourselves strive for supremacy for the glory of the school or cheer our warriors on from the sidelines, we can't help absorbing the spirit of sportsmanship and the tierce toy of conflict ever present. We therefore devote our closing section to our athletes.

Gym Team

OACHED by Frank Galles, Central's 1936-37 gym team completed its season successfully by taking the city title away from Johnson High Captain William Arndt, high point man, led the Minutemen to victory by taking 551 points. He was closely followed by Rolland Appleton and Rolland Hoke. Johnson, 1935-36 champions, entered only one man in this season's meet and became automatically ineligible for team championship. Central's nearest competition was Mechanics, scoring a total of 4098 points to the Minutemen's 4253.

Heretofore, gym has been a minor sport in St. Paul athletics. Mr. W. W. Kilbourne, in charge of the gymnastic program, announced that there would be a new schedule of dual meets between the city high schools next year. This will make it one of the secondary sports at Central, thus putting it on a par with swimming, track, basketball, and tennis.

Fieldball

VERYBODY enjoys an exciting game of fieldball, a sport which starts the fall season of G. A. A. Based on the outdoor game of soccer, the ball is thrown instead of kicked. A team is composed of five forwards, three halfbacks, two quarter-backs, and one goal guard. Using a large rubber ball, the center box plays an important part in the passing from side to side to gain a goal.

At the close of the season tryouts were held by the fieldball head, Irma jene Sanford. She chose four senior, junior, and sophomore judges from G. A. A. who, alternating so that only three judges from two classes judged the other class, picked three representative teams, each member receiving twenty-five points, to compete in inter-class games. The seniors, captained by Bernita by defeating the juniors under Gayle Johnson in a close game by two goals to one. Taking the sophomores 4-1, the senior team emerged victorious.

Swimming

ROM among the G. A. A. members who tried out for the swimming team late in January, the ten highest scoring girls were chosen to represent the Central G. A. A. These girls were judged by Miss Helen Pointer of the Y. W. C. A. on regulation strokes, treading water, surface diving, one hundred yard free style swim, a standing dive, and one optional dive. They were captained by Jean Morris, who as swimming head on the Executive Board automatically headed the team

Shortly after the team was picked, an individual point meet was held for the team members at the Y. W. C. A. Ripbons were awarded to Ruth Franklin who ranked first in swimming, to Hester Jewell and Jean Morris, who were tied for second place, and to Norma Rosness who placed first in diving. About 35 swimmers received free physical examinations. A play day was planned for those girls from each high school who made the greatest progress in their individual classes in which they received instruction.

PRACTICAL BUSINESS SCHOOL

Varsity Town's "Flying Colors Ensemble"

It's correct for every occasion. There's the sports jacket and contrasting slack for dress... the three-piece suit for general wear... the odd slack for a round of golf or round the house.

The Spirit of Advancement

Many castles built in the air have be come wonderful realities

A man dreamed of a world that was round and America was discovered. A man watched a teakettle and brought us the power of steam. Another flew a kite and found electricity. Other men imagined machines which would sew, add, weave, travel, cut steel, talk, and the things they imagined came to life

But from the minds of the inventors, the product of the distributors there is an unbroken line of achievement only be cause the printer, who is the voice of the and the herald of tomorrow.

signing of the Magna Charta, the iding of the Pilgrims at Plymouth, the blution, and every im in history, lives only in the in word. And all toos in the infinite that way ause of the PRINTER

In Appreciation

The members of the staff of 1937 wish to express their gratitude to the "Times" for its hearty cooperation in the advertising space, announcements, write-ups, and feature stories given for the "Cenisean."

We wish to thank the class room teachers and the advisers who have given their time graciously for the improvement of the yearbook

The business tirms whose advertisements have appeared in this annual are supporting this school. Will you do the same by patronizing our advertisers?
